

Setting up your NCBI account.

Go to (or google) PubMed
<http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed>

In far upper R of the PubMed homepage, click:
Sign in to NCBI
to bring up this page →

Log in using eRA/NIH log in.

Click "By email"

Then you must confirm the email from NCBI.

Finally, click "here" to continue to MyNCBI

From
<http://libguides.library.umkc.edu/content.php?pid=493199&sid=4049213>

For a My NCBI account via your eRA Commons log in, enter the information on the NIH Secure Identity Solutions log in screen. At the "Sign in via a Partner Organization" screen, click the By email option, then click Continue. The email address in your eRA Commons account will be entered as your My NCBI email.

User Name: HUGHESTR
Password: Change Password

Log in

Sign in via a Partner Organization

Please choose one of the following options:

- By email
- Link an existing NCBI account

First-last@uowa.edu

help

For either type of creation method, you will be logged in to your new account. You will also receive a confirmation email from NCBI; make sure to click the link in that email to complete the registration process.

Register for an NCBI Account

You are now signed in to your newly registered account. However, you must confirm your email address to use some NCBI services. We have sent a link in an email to the address you specified. Please click the link in that email within 72 hours.

Summary of account registration

Login: First-last@uowa.edu
Email: First-last@uowa.edu

You are now logged in. Click here to continue to My NCBI.